Multiplication flash cards

How to make them

1. Cut along the dashed lines.
2. Fold each card in half on the dotted line, so the question is on one side and the green answer is on the other.
3. A dab of glue or tape keeps it closed.

How to use them kindly

- No timer. Speed comes later, on its own.
- Start with about ten cards, mostly ones the learner already knows. Add two new ones at a time.
- When they miss one, just say the answer and put the card back in the stack. No sigh, no lecture.
- Let them quiz you too.
- Ten minutes is plenty. Stop while it is still going well.

What is in this pack

36 cards: every times-table fact from 2 × 2 to 9 × 9. Each fact appears once, because 3 × 7 and 7 × 3 are the same fact.
